The New Look Bus was the face of North American public transit in the latter half of the 20th century, with over 45,000 built between 1959 and 1986. Everyone remembers the New Look, also known as the "Fishbowl" Bus. For the first time in any scale, you can now purchase a museum-quality model of the New Look Bus scanned from the real thing. The first release model comes with double-stream rear exit doors.

Deluxe models also feature interior lighting; painted seats with painted handrails; working headlights and tail lights; and illuminated destination sign. (12V power supply not included.)

Don't miss this opportunity to bring your memories to life in model form.
