

The Model Bus Website – Model Review

Guidelines for contributors

Thanks for considering contributing a new model review to The Model Bus Website. We would be pleased to receive it and share it, and feel sure our readers will be interested to read it.

We would much prefer to receive fair and balanced reviews noting both the good points and any aspects of the model you believe could have been replicated more accurately. The inclusion of detail relating the actual vehicle modelled is encouraged.

It is helpful if you are able to contribute your review with pictures illustrating both the model as a whole, and the points you make. These are best sent in JPEG format as they come off the camera, with the final editing being left to the webmaster to suit the web page. Pictures bring a page to life!

There is no limit to the number of words you may use.

Please provide your name with your review, as we are unable to publish anonymous reviews.

Submission of a review is no guarantee of publication. The editor reserves the right to adjust any review, though every effort will be made to ensure that the essential character of the words provided is respected. If you wish to approve your review before it may be published, then please ask when you submit it.
